Intel Drop #82

Editor's Note: All future Intel Drops will now also be released in video format (slightly truncated from the full written version). You can now view Intel Drop #82 on our YouTube channel.

The following was collated from intel sent to our team from Gideon. As always, all intel sent by Gideon is edited by Michael for clarity and for obfuscation purposes (see: Adversarial stylometry):

Bill: Good morning. Shall we start with a status update?

Gideon: "Good morning, Bill. Yes, proceed."

Bill: We've been on edge since a very recent attack on our team. We should address that first.

Gideon: "Certainly."

Bill: This breach affected our emails. I really thought our emails were compromised, but they actually weren't. Maybe you can explain better.

Gideon: "Our team knows the details now. We were able to intervene, remove the attacker and regain control of the accounts but not without some damage being done. It is true, the emails themselves were not the point of failure or attack."

Bill: I'm glad we weathered the storm. Can we survive future attacks?

Gideon: "We can. We have protected our Obsidian accounts. We are in a good position, even if there is escalation. Our public-facing accounts may be compromised, but our team is secure."

Bill: About two months ago, I received an incoherent, bizarre email accusing me of being some person from the state of Texas, it was a man's name I'd never heard of. I've never even been to Texas. I felt this wasn't an agent. So, it brings me to a question here, is the cabal activating unstable people to come against us?

Gideon: "It is entirely possible, if not probable."

Bill: When we first released our knowledge of Obsidian, it definitely wasn't just agents after us, some people just hated the information. They were angry, reactionary, they didn't want to believe it. Now, we've been proven to be right, over and over, and I noticed some of these people drifted off into the woodwork, into the background.

Gideon: "There is no way to deny the information now. Attacking the information is not going to work, so they may want to come after you personally, to smear you. We may see more of that."

Bill: Yes, that, exactly. I would think the cabal can just activate unstable people with the nano tech. It just made me consider that, consider it's not just agents after us.

Gideon: "The subject of gang-stalking, MK Ultra and so on is not something that has come up in our discussions, probably because I consider it an implicit truth. But, without any doubt, there could and would be people the cabal is using against us, people unaware they are being manipulated."

Bill: I don't want to stay on this too long, but I wanted to mention we believe there's usually two or three agents active in our Telegram chat group at all times. I've tracked them, we can see what they're doing. It's just amazing to me how the cabal assigns these agents.

Gideon: "We are possibly the only group that has exposed the actual plan. I am not surprised at all the cabal monitors us. I know there is a concern I may reveal things in these Intel Drops that they do not want revealed. So far, I have straddled the line on that, but I have not crossed it."

Bill: What would you say would be the nature of that? What would crossing the line look like?

Gideon: "Well, I will try to choose my words carefully here. There are a lot of things I have never been able to discuss publicly. I will give some examples that do not reveal too much.

There are two locations I know of, two office buildings, in two specific cities, that they would not want me publicly discussing.

There are some names I am aware of in terms of who developed the nano tech, names and a company.

I know some about the specific technology they use to speak to these entities on the other side, the device they use. I know enough that a team of dedicated people could probably make one of their own, but I have no desire to speak to these evil things.

I know the name of the highest group or order overseeing all operations on Earth. I have said they operate out of Switzerland, but I have not named another place they also operate out of, and I know they do not want that place revealed.

I am aware of, and I have some direct knowledge of, a sacred text the cabal covets and uses, one that contains spells and secret knowledge. This text has never been published. Access to it is difficult to come by, but I know at least one person who has seen it and read some of it.

I know of two specific dates the cabal has placed great importance on in 2027. I know of, in a general sense, an Earth change they know about coming in the 2030s.

That is not everything, that is just some of it. Because of this knowledge, I could do more to

That is not everything, that is just some of it. Because of this knowledge, I could do more to disrupt their operations, I could talk about some of these things in our Intel Drops, as well, but it would not accomplish enough. I would not be able to do enough damage before they escalated against us. Our mission is far more important."

Bill: I do know of some of these things, too, because you've told me, but not all of that. You told me you have a few sources with far more knowledge than you have, is that right?

Gideon: "It is. My access to certain sources keeps the cabal up at night, so to speak. It is one reason we are carefully monitored. I have been told any time we publish an Intel Drop, it is carefully reviewed and scanned quickly, probably by the cabal's AI, to determine nothing too damaging was said or released."

Bill: I'll move on here to my notes. Some people have written me things indicating that they see the nano tech is activating. It's just proving our intel. Can you give an update on your latest intel on where the nano tech project stands?

Gideon: "Yes. We are seeing changes in people, that is not in doubt. The cabal is preparing for this activation, and preparing their technology to help with this transition. Those are the cybernetic, bionic apparatuses I have spoken about.

People are going to have these things installed into their bodies to help them cope and function, especially with the AI job losses. It will also help with the nature of the nano tech itself, which is designed to affect free will and dislodge the human soul from decision-making.

This nano tech - once activated - is powerful enough to disrupt human functioning so much that the cabal has to actually intervene so total collapse does not occur; they are going to have to help people, as odd as that sounds."

Bill: I haven't heard you quite put it that way. The nano tech will affect people enough they will need the bionic upgrades?

Gideon: "Yes."

Bill: That's chilling. Do you think people will reject implants, will it be seen as too invasive?

Gideon: "Not necessarily. It will be presented as a 'biohack' or helpful upgrade. It is one reason we are seeing 'biohacking' being popularized all over social media. That term is everywhere now. People are not feeling well, and they are going to look for solutions."

Bill: If the Samsung CEO is saying this, I think you can take it to the bank, it's coming.

Gideon: "It is."

Bill: Then you have this "life scripting" you spoke about, another layer to all of this.

Gideon: "That is a very, very deep subject, very complex. When you have Starlink activated, the nano tech activated, along with some bionic upgrades, that is a point where the human is now a guinea pig entirely susceptible to the cabal's designs. Then you have Obsidian.

Now, we know by 2035 the digital framework, with USDR, will be so integrated that all transactions will be monitored and actually live and dwell within the body. Tokenization will take on a new meaning. I do not see personal property ownership existing for common class people, at all."

Bill: The cabalists, the Sovereigns, won't be doing any of this, right?

Gideon: "No. They will have a choice if they want to integrate with any of this. To my knowledge, most will not. The more public ones, though, will pretend to, like Elon Musk."

Bill: Sort of like taking a fake Covid shot?

Gideon: "Precisely. You will see public figures champion or try out the bionic upgrades, saying they are safe and helpful."

Bill: This is a few years out, though?

Gideon: "It is. It is just present and on my mind because I am learning more things about it.

Understanding it is very important, because if a person has the nano tech in them - which everyone already does - and they do not receive these upgrades, there seems to be a plan whereby these people will struggle to function at all.

That is a plan I am learning more about. It is going to force people into accepting these upgrades. It is alarming."

Bill: How far away is this?

Gideon: "It is planned for the 2030s. It is the transhumanist agenda, but no one is truly seeing the actual depth of this. People will not feel well, they will not really know why, so they will accept the biohacking propaganda. It will be sold as a health-related initiative and entirely harmless, without side-effects."

Bill: What are the effects of the vaccines? Your [illegible]

Bill: What are the effects of the nano tech? You've mentioned them before, remind me.

Gideon: "The biggest thing I am hearing is that post-activation, people will be a little more lethargic and unmotivated. I have been told to expect 'brain fog' and a lack of focus. The cabal will be ready and prepared with advertisements and a campaign to address that. It is years away, but we need to be mindful of what is coming."

Bill: A few Intel Drops back, you described the U.S. military as being afraid of something, and now I just saw a video released by Alex Wei talking about a strange purge of a lot of military officials. Do you think he's connected some dots here?

Gideon: "There has been a purge. The cabal may be cleaning house, removing uncooperative officials. I do not know, I just know a number of rank-and-file U.S. government officials are worried about something.

I think it is important to know the war is not over. What do you think the purpose of a ceasefire is? Is it peace? No, it is re-armament and re-organization. They are getting ready for the next round."

Bill: You're right, I think I'll Tweet that out. No one gets it, this is not about peace.

Gideon: "Israel has failed to achieve its goals, and it is highly motivated to see this through. Trump is also blackmailed. So, while Trump will dither and put out some confusing signals, the actual action he takes will further Israel's goals."

Bill: Will the U.S. get more aggressive, like use nukes or ground troops?

Gideon: "Nukes, no, ground troops, yes. I expect the conflict to worsen. If the U.S. and Israel actually lose, that is by design, by the way. I have said for so long that the cabal is planning to destroy the U.S. and Israel."

Bill: What are you hearing from your sources regarding this coming event we've warned of?

Gideon: "What we are looking at is what the cabal is doing, how they are moving around assets, how they are positioning things, and a lot of bits of intel are all indicating a major event.

I do not like to make predictions unless I am fully certain. I do not know enough at this time, but I do have a source I am relying on for more information on that."

Bill: Our more recent Intel Drops have been shorter in length, and a lot more of your words have been pared down and reduced. You've asked Michael to edit out and remove a lot of our more in-depth conversations. What was your reason for that?

Gideon: "I am trying to balance giving the public information and also prevent the cabal from escalating against us.

Privately, we discuss more esoteric topics - the afterlife, dimensional reality, and the cabal's control of it - which I know they do not want discussed publicly. That is probably the main topic the cabal does not like me discussing, in fact, which is something I have found out over time. It was not something I expected or thought of initially, when we began our Cosmic Rules Are About To Change series.

We are strongly considering only posting our Intel Drops for our team, or splitting them up, a more brief version for the public, and a more detailed version for our team. I am leaning strongly in that direction."

Bill: Thank you for explaining that. I really like the idea of a full Intel Drop just for our team. When do you think we might do that?

Gideon: "Possibly the next Intel Drop may be split up like that. If this escalation continues, we must do it that way."

Bill: One of the whistleblowers is leaving their position. Maybe you can talk about what that is going to mean.

Gideon: "Their job contract is ending. Their position is less necessary now, while there are other positions, mostly relating to USDR, that are more important in terms of Obsidian's development.

This change will restrict our ability to some degree to add new members to our team. It will not drastically impact things, but it is a setback in terms of team growth."

Bill: What's their general impression and assessment of Obsidian and where it stands now?

Gideon: "Bill, I do not want to be negligent here, so before I answer that, I want to thank them for their sacrifice in actually staying on the job a bit longer than they needed to, having extended their work contract once previously.

Beyond that, they have been able to provide us with excellent logistics and intel. They felt major changes were made in late 2024. This is when a new A.I. module was installed.

With the new A.I. module, we can see the cabal has a huge interest in data relating to the human body, they want that information. That strongly suggests they need it for a future plan, for the bionics we have spoken about."

Bill: Does us talking about this person leaving put them at risk? Because now the cabal can go look at who they are letting go?

Gideon: "Good question, but no. I have obfuscated certain facts here. There is no actionable intel we have ever released that would bring harm to them or identify them."

Bill: Ok, there's a confirmation I want to share, I think it's pretty significant. For new readers, we've always warned about gatekeepers, we've talked about it extensively and we have an article up about it. Mayim Bialik has a huge YouTube channel, and she's now featuring a channeler by the name of Lee Harris. At 25:40 in the video he begins channeling his entities and says boldly to Mayim and her team, "You are the gatekeepers..." He then calls them gatekeepers a few more times! It just blew my mind, it's right in your face.

Gideon: "It is. I viewed the video. He is not hiding what they are, because they are, indeed, gatekeepers. A gatekeeper is not a positive thing, either. I wonder if a single person noticed that besides you?"

Bill: Judging by the comments praising him, I doubt it. The public is eating this stuff up. It used to be that channeling was a really far out practice, now it's being accepted. The cabal is behind this.

Gideon: "Yes. It is important to note something that is universal with the channelers who are being promoted, and that is that none of them speak of the nano tech, Obsidian, the cabal, transhumanism, none of them sound the alarm on any of this.

They do speak of war - they do warn there will be a few difficult years - but largely they indicate everything past 2030 is going to be blissful in some way. I hope readers can discern the deception here."

Bill: I find it painfully obvious, myself, how deceptive they are. Do you think these people are just cabal agents pretending to contact entities, or are they really in contact with entities?

Gideon: "It is a bit of both."

Bill: Let's say it's a real entity, what are we dealing with? How much truth are they sharing? What's with their names or associations with things like different alien groups?

Gideon: "I would regard what they say as a mix of truth and lies. If you listen to them, they do impart some truths, but they cloak those truths with deception. They also rarely impart any actionable information. For example, we know Ivermectin and Fenbendazole kill most cancers actionable information. For example, we know Ivermectin and Fenbendazole kill most cancers, why are they not talking about that?

I find it mostly useless, but for those drawn in, it is a good feeling, it is a sense of, 'Yes, bad things are happening, but the golden age is coming and we are watching over you to protect you, the good aliens are here to help.'

How is a golden age coming when the cabal is in total control of the planet and their plans are going unchallenged?"

Bill: It's delusion. Nobody's resisting. What are these entities, though? Demonic in nature? They act like they're angels, guides, aliens.

Gideon: "My guide says they are demons. I agree with her, and think they belong to a complex cabal hierarchy in the afterlife. These discussions should be reserved for our team going forward."

Bill: Alright, I want to follow up on all of these questions for the next Intel Drop, I have a big list, in terms of the spiritual-related questions. I know you have to go, so I'll bring this to a close. Do you have any final words for our readers?

Gideon: "Yes, I do. Understand the threat vector here. The importance of the antidote to the nano tech gains greater significance for me the more I learn. We must disable the nano tech. We will do all we can to share more about it, once we learn more. I encourage everyone to be ready for that."

Bill: As always, God bless and we'll talk again soon.

Gideon: "Be safe, Bill. Goodnight."
